Select Wall Street Research Updates and Commentary

Update from Morgan Stanley, July 2019

Adjusted operating margins improved +240bps in 2Q, including +90bps of organic margin expansion, +150bps from restructuring and other operational improvements, partially offset by unfavorable F/X of -50bps. Management continues to believe that organic growth, portfolio mix, and productivity improvements should lead to margin expansion long-term, similar to the 70-80bps seen historically. We anticipate margin expansion of +180bps/+70bps/+70bps in 2019/20/21e

Update from Credit Suisse, August 2019

EHTH is on track to double its number of agents in 2019 vs 2018. External agents are expected to represent two-thirds of its total agents in 2019 (vs half in 2018). Given the experience of the external agents at the company's two new vendors, along with better technology support and scripting, EHTH sees a possibility of improved performance from external agents this year, which is currently not reflected in its 2019 outlook. We now believe EHTH has several drivers in place, which should push its results closer to the tailwind case (15% upside to our '21 rev est). We are keeping our ests unchanged but increasing our TP multiple to 7.5x from 6.5x prev. This yields a TP of $136 (from $118). Risks include MA market slowdown, investments not paying off, etc.

Update from BMO Capital Markets, August 2018

We reiterate our Outperform rating and $32 target price following Q2/19. An in-line, clean, and constructive quarter, combined with a reported $0.73 EPS beat helped by investment gains, excellent sales growth, continued neutral LTC experience, continued capital free-up, and a guide to a neutral net income impact from its upcoming comprehensive LTC reserve review were all positives. Core EPS estimates increase $0.02 in H2/19E reflecting better earnings on surplus, with 2020E conservatively left unchanged.

Update from Raymond James, August 2019

We view Old Republic is a best-in-class asset in the insurance industry. The company's mantra is "managing for the long run". The company's emphasized corporate objectives corporate objectives through organic growth and targeted acquisitions. ORI has been reporting elevated claims ratio in commercial auto primarily due to industry-wide challenges that includes an unfavorable tort environment. ORI has implemented a double-digit rate increase (~10%) in each of the past seven years.

Update from Oppenheimer, July 2019

AIZ reported 2Q Op EPS of $2.34 well ahead of $2.11 Mse and $2.09 consensus. Top-line growth in Global Lifestyle drove the beat vs MSe, partially offset by lower net investment income. We anticipate positive reaction due to the outperformance in Global Lifestyle. Negative outlook on Global Housing is unlikely to be a headwind as AIZ has previously identified elevated losses in small commercial products (Specialty and Other) and is taking corrective action.
