Select Wall Street Research Updates and Commentary

Update from BMO, January 2020

Solid 4Q results wrap an overall strong year and set a positive tone for upcoming earnings from others. That said, we think the elections will be the biggest stock driver this year, which makes us 'neutral' on UNH (Market Perform-rated) along with HUM, given their sector-highest MA concentration (and valuation). While the outlook for MA is strong, we think it will be the most volatile to the election outcome since federal regulation (i.e., the White House) is the key lever in play.

Update from Cantor Fitzgerald, January 2020

We reiterate our Overweight rating on EVH shares, but increase our price target to $16 from $10. We have revised our assumptions to include Passport, thus the increase in price target. At a recent competitor conference, Evolent provided an update regarding Passport Health Plan and the company's 2020 outlook. Also, the company added an additional $75 million in debt (at a relatively high interest rate) to solidify its balance sheet. With respect to Passport, Kentucky issued a new Medicaid RFP. Given the revised effective date of 1/1/21, Passport will continue to serve its beneficiaries through the end of 2020 (under any scenario). We have revised our estimates to account for the full-year contribution of Passport to EVH's services revenue. We now assume that Passport will retain the Kentucky contract, but remains a risk to our revised price target.

Update from Cantor Fitzgerald, January 2020

We reiterate our Overweight rating on RCM shares and increase our price target to $17 from $15. On Monday, January 13, R1 RCM announced it has agreed to acquire SCI Solutions (private) for $190 million. SCI was founded about 20 years ago and provides SaaS-based patient experience (PX) solutions. While small in revenue, it has solid margins. We view the acquisition as a solid strategic fit for RCM, as SCI should strengthen the company's capabilities within the front-end of the provider revenue cycle. With the acquisition announcement, R1 raised its 2020 guidance and announced initial 2021 guidance along with strong long-term growth targets. We met with management last week to discuss the acquisition and other operational updates. We continue to believe R1 is building one of strongest end-to-end revenue cycle management (RCM) platforms in the industry. Given the transformational (and accretive) acquisition of SCI and improved financial expectations, we believe the shares offer solid upside from current levels.

Update from Citi, November 2019

OMCL reported a Q4 revenue beat underwritten by strength in Products. FY19 revenue growth accelerated to 13.9% y/y, and guidance calls for similar revenue growth in 2020. We're in the early innings of a cabinet replacement cycle and fundamentals are strong, but not necessarily durable. At >25x FY21E EPS, we believe the replacement cycle strength is fully priced in. In our view, further multiple expansion will require revenue diversification to demonstrate durability of OMCL's financial model, regardless of replacement cycles. In the meantime, our increased $88 price target (was $77) assigns an unchanged 25x multiple to our 2021E EPS (prior 2020E) and we reiterate our Neutral rating.

Update from Cantor Fitzgerald, January 2020

We reiterate our Neutral rating on MDRX shares and maintain our price target of $11. Before the market open today, January 14, Allscripts provided updated 4Q19 and 2019 guidance. The company lowered its 4Q19 revenue guidance while reaffirming its 2019 adjusted EPS expectations. Notably, the company now expects 2019 bookings to post solid y/y growth (on a continuing operations basis). Still, we believe Allscripts' growth continues to be challenged. At the start of 2019, the company indicated it expects average organic top-line growth of just 3.5-6.0% from 2019 through 2021. Separately, MDRX announced an extended Managed Services agreement with one of its largest customers. While this is positive, we need to see improved growth rates before becoming more constructive on the shares. Accordingly, we reiterate our Neutral rating on the shares.
